Operating Statement

The Academy governors believe that sex and relationship education is important to provide knowledge and encourage the acquisition of skills and attitudes to allow our students to manage their lives in a responsible and healthy way.

Parents/carers have a major responsibility to help students cope with the physical and emotional aspects of growing up.

The Academy will support parents, staff (teaching and non-teaching) and outside visitors in this task and ensure that all students are adequately and equally informed. Students will be equipped with the skills needed to develop a range of relationships and encourage respect and consideration for others.

APPENDIX 2

The Legal Framework: The Academy's obligations

Since August 1995, Governors have been obliged to ensure that sex education, including education about HIV and AIDS and other sexually transmitted diseases, is provided for all students. Governors are also obliged to produce a Sex Education Policy outlining the content and organization of that curriculum and to make copies available for inspection by parents and, if requested, provide a copy free of charge.

From August 1994, parents of both primary and secondary students have had the right to withdraw students from all or part of any sex education that does not form part of the National Curriculum. The parental right of withdrawal extends to all students, including those over compulsory school age.

In the National Curriculum Science Order at Key Stage 3, there is a requirement for all students to be taught about human reproduction and the physical and emotional changes that take place during adolescence. (A parent cannot withdraw its child from this).

Section 1 (2) of the Education Reform Act 1988 requires all state schools to offer a curriculum which:

- a. promotes the spiritual, moral, cultural, mental and physical development of students at the school and of society; and
- b. prepares such students for the opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of adult life.

Section 46 of the 1986 Act requires that the LEA, the Governing Body and the Principal:

“Shall take such steps as are reasonably practicable to secure that where sex education is given to any registered students at the Academy it is given in such a manner as to encourage those students to have due regard to moral considerations and the value of family life”.

Organisation Of Sex And Relationship Education

Sex and relationship education will be co-ordinated by working with Academy Medical Support, the Principal and Vice Principal. Aspects of sex and relationship education, Sex and Relationships Policy addressed through the taught curriculum, will be delivered by the teacher with responsibility for drugs, sex and relationship education, with support from the Academy nurse and other relevant outside agencies.

Delivery will be through agreed topics, planned aspects of science, Religious education, PSHCE and assemblies. All aspects of SRE will be presented in a balanced way, taking into account the cultural diversity within the Academy.

Knowledge and Information

Key Stage 3 - Puberty, personal safety, friendship and love, family life and relationships, gender issues/conception and birth, contraception, HIV/AIDS, safer sex, helping agencies/sex and the law, life stages, developing awareness and understanding of the human body.

Key Stage 4 - Birth processes, abortion, fostering and adoption, genetic inheritance, early parenting, sexually transmitted diseases (including HIV/AIDS), sexual lifestyles, helping agencies, prejudice and stereotyping, different faiths and cultures.

Issues will be presented in an objective and balanced way, with students being encouraged to consider their attitudes and values within our values' framework. They will be made aware of the difference between fact, opinion and religious belief. Students will be helped to understand and express their feelings by providing the vocabulary, developing confidence and communication skills.

The Academy will ensure current legislation is adhered to and that the education relates to the Academy's Equal Opportunities and Child Protection Policies.

Values and Beliefs

As well as knowledge and information, students will be encouraged to consider the importance of the following values, which are derived from the Academy's value system:

- respect and valuing of themselves and others;
- understanding and sensitivity towards the needs and views of others;
- responsibility for their own actions;
- responsibility to the Academy, their family and the wider community;
- to formulate and discuss their views whilst respecting those of others

Skills and abilities

Students will be encouraged to develop skills in:

- communication, including the making and keeping of relationships;
- assertiveness;
- decision-making;
- recognising and using opportunities to develop a healthy lifestyle.

Parents who have concerns about the content of SRE lessons should contact the PSHCE co-ordinator for more information about the course. Information about the SRE Scheme of Work will be informed to parents so that contact can be supported by conversations at home.

Sex and relationship education incorporates the development of self-esteem and relationships. We seek to ensure that students have access to sound, factual information on these matters.

Students' learning does not just take place through the taught curriculum but through all aspects of Academy life.

Specific Issues

Child Protection, Sexual Abuse

The Academy is legally required to refer concerns regarding child protection issues, including sexual abuse, to other agencies such as Children's Services. This will mean that sometimes Academy staff need to support an investigation into the care of individual students attending the Academy. The investigation does not mean that accusations are being made, but that a concern is being looked into.

Confidentiality and Advice

Students will be made aware that some information cannot be held in confidence and that certain disclosures will lead to certain actions. Staff will adhere to the following procedures:

- Disclosure or suspicion of possible abuse will invoke the Academy's Child Protection procedures
- Disclosure of pregnancy to any member of staff should be referred to the designated Child Protection Officer, and followed up by the SRE teacher who will contact the appropriate agency

It is also perfectly appropriate for staff to re-direct a student to a professional with relevant expertise in a particular area, e.g. Youth Workers and the Academy's pastoral team.

Where a student makes a disclosure to a member of staff, and he/she finds the subject matter difficult to deal with, it is not a breach of confidentiality to discuss the matter with a Line Manager.

These guidelines are intended to ensure that staff use their professional discretion, whilst also operating within a legal framework. It is important that staff know that it is not a requirement that they deal with a student beyond the referral stages, as there are designated staff/officers, both within the Academy and within Children's Services, who are responsible for implementing investigations and offering support, etc, to students.

Answering difficult questions

If a student asks an explicit or difficult question, staff should use their professional judgment in deciding the best way to answer it. This may be through individual work or discussion with the student. If a staff member is concerned, they can refer the matter to the SRE teacher, the Academy counselor or CP officer, using the Academy referral form in the staffroom.

Harassment and bullying

Students come from a variety of backgrounds and all are entitled to learn in a supportive environment, free from fear. Some students may use sexually related or homophobic language as a way to harass others. This is unacceptable and will be dealt with as any other form of harassment, through the Academy behaviour and discipline procedures.

An understanding of human difference, including sexuality, is an important aspect of education and will be addressed as appropriate through the curriculum.
